THE STORY OF THE SURAH

From Night to Morning

At night, it gets dark. Sometimes the dark feels scary.

But Allah is the One who splits the darkness and brings the light of the morning. That is what “Falaq” means.

If Allah can bring the daylight, He can protect us from any harm!

THE STORY OF THE SURAH

Ask Allah for Protection

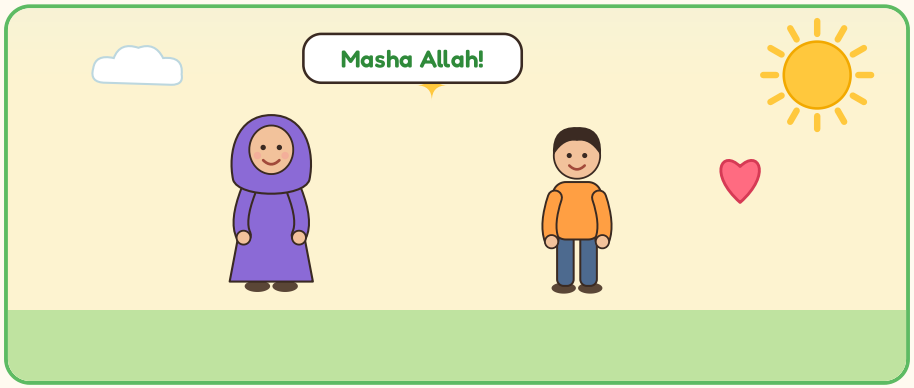

This surah is a dua. We ask Allah to protect us from harm.

We ask for protection from the dark night, from people who try bad, secret tricks, and from people who are jealous.

Only Allah can protect us from bad things and bless us with good things.

THE STORY OF THE SURAH

Do Not Be Jealous

Jealous means wishing someone did not have their blessings. That is not a good feeling.

When you see someone with a blessing, say "Masha Allah!" and ask Allah to give them even more.

And we do not need to brag about our blessings, either.

Think about it: What can you say when a friend gets something nice?

For grown-ups: from The Clear Quran for Kids, told gently for little readers. Please teach this surah's dua with a teacher.

FUNNY STORY

Three Jealous Workers

Three workers always argued, because each was jealous of the others. One day, they got lost in the desert and found a magic lamp. A genie said, "One wish each!"

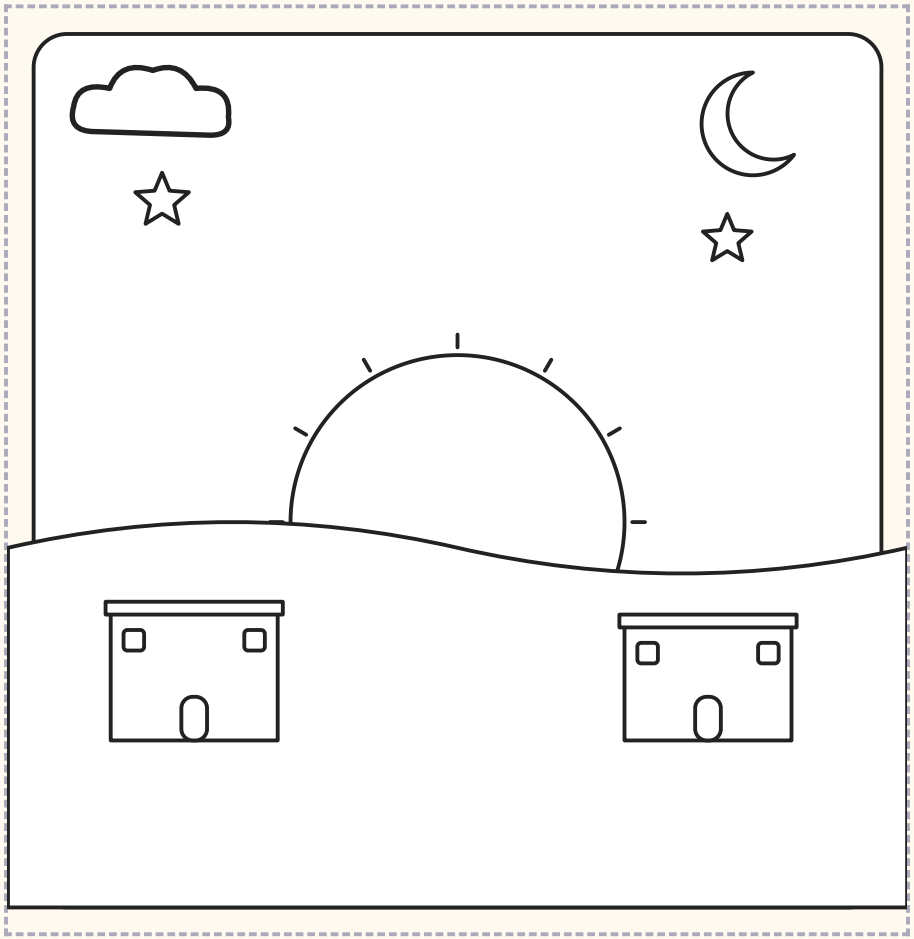

The first said, "Send me back to the store!" Poof, he was gone. The second pushed the third, then said, "Send me back to the store, too!" Poof!

The third was left alone with the genie. He shouted, "I wish those two were back here right now!" Poof! Jealousy only got everyone in trouble.

Talk about it: Jealousy makes trouble for everyone, mostly for the jealous person. What can you do instead?
